Mitsubishi Motor Sales of Canada, Inc. Forced Labour Statement - 2026

This annual report is pursuant to section 11 of the Fighting Against Forced Labour and Child Labour in Supply Chains Act, hereafter referred to as the "Act".

Section 11(1) of the Act: A description of the steps taken to prevent and reduce risks of forced labour and child labour.

Mitsubishi Motor Sales of Canada, Inc. (MMSCAN) has taken its responsibilities under the Act very seriously. MMSCAN is committed to ensuring that forced and child labour, as defined by the Act, is actively combatted in its supply chain. This includes all direct supply chain management that is conducted internally and via our related affiliates, such as Mitsubishi Motors Corporation (MMC), headquartered in Japan and Mitsubishi Motor Sales North America, Inc. (MMNA), headquartered in the United States.

Internally, MMSCAN has developed several due diligence and mitigation projects to ensure compliance with the Act. MMSCAN's legal department has ensured that each vendor contract entered since the Act's ascension includes a clause that directly addresses the requirements of the Act and creates a contractual obligation on the vendor to ensure their supply chains do not contain forced labour. In 2024, MMSCAN developed its first Anti-Forced Labour policy. This policy addresses the concerns and responsibilities outlined in the Act by creating awareness within MMSCAN of the Act, by empowering each MMSCAN employee with the responsibility to investigate and protect against forced labour in MMSCAN's supply chain and provides training opportunities for employees to learn more about the Act and its requirements.

MMSCAN has worked closely with MMC and MMNA, two of MMSCAN's largest suppliers and partners, to develop supply chain maps and other due diligence measures against forced labour. Since last year's report, MMC and MMSCAN have developed MMC's first ever corresponding policy regarding combatting forced labour. This was a significant achievement, and speaks to both MMSCAN's and MMC's commitment to global and Canadian laws focused on combatting forced labour.

MMSCAN has once again gone to great lengths to communicate and receive assurances via our external non-related vendors that they do not use forced labour in their supply chains. MMSCAN has approached all its external vendors and has received written assurances that they do not use forced labour in their supply chains. MMSCAN compliance team members have undertaken this task with great diligence and will continue to do so for all existing and future vendors.

In 2025, one vendor indicated hesitation towards providing assurances, and MMSCAN worked with that vendor to identify the hazard of their hesitation, and to correct any misgivings. MMSCAN is committed to working with vendors but is also prepared to move from vendors who are not committed to providing assurances in conjunction with our Forced Labour Policy.

them to MMSCAN's network of affiliated dealers in Canada. MMSCAN currently has 115 employees, all located in Canada. MMSCAN is a member of the Global Automakers of Canada, an automotive industry group comprised of many OEM companies in Canada.

MMSCAN does not produce or manufacture in Canada. It imports goods from its partners, internationally and domestically. All MMSCAN's vehicles are supplied by MMC, who mainly manufacture vehicles and parts in Japan and Thailand. Various third-party suppliers work with MMC on a wide-array of vehicle components, hailing from Japan, Thailand, Vietnam, China, and other countries worldwide.

b) Policies and due diligence processes

MMSCAN has undertaken the following steps to combat forced labour in its supply chain, more details of which can be found above:

- MMSCAN Anti-Forced Labour Training has been made standard for all employees. Our training materials have been updated and improved in 2026.
- Written assurances from vendors and partners that they do not use forced labour in their supply chains.
- Contractual guarantees received from vendors that they do not use forced labour in their supply chain.
- Developed corresponding policy with parent company to ensure absence of forced labour in supply chain.
- Training with MMSCAN's legal, finance, and trade compliance teams to ensure all groups are current on the Act's requirements and implementing internal safeguards to comply with the Act.
- MMSCAN has engaged in discussions, not yet finalized, on partnering with our parent company in Japan and with third-party international human rights organizations.

c) Forced labour and child labour risks

MMSCAN has not identified any particular or specific risks associated with its vendor network and supply chain. However, MMSCAN is committed to continuously monitor its supply chain for potential problematic issues. This will include monitoring global human rights trends, keeping updated on additional laws and regulations, and working with our partners and vendors to ensure MMSCAN receives transparent and accurate supply chain details.

d) Remediation measures

MMSCAN has undertaken several steps, outlined above, to combat the potential of forced labour in its supply chain. However, MMSCAN has not identified any forced labour in its supply chain, and therefore is not in a position to take remediation measures against same. Therefore, the question of remediation is considered not applicable at this time.

MMSCAN has not identified any forced labour in its supply chain. Therefore, no measures have been taken in this area.

f) Training

MMSCAN has developed an Anti-Forced Labour policy with its Human Resources and Legal departments. In 2026, this training will be made mandatory for all employees. MMSCAN's trade compliance and legal teams have undergone mandatory training regarding this Act, and MMSCAN has made the training standard for all employees. The current training consists of an in-person meeting with a MMSCAN legal team member, and contains an explanation of the Act, MMSCAN's current mitigation and due diligence tools, and role-playing exercises intended to increase awareness and problem solving when dealing with new and existing vendors.

g) Assessing effectiveness

It is still perhaps early to assess effectiveness; however, based on all data received and investigations made, MMSCAN's efforts to combat forced labour in its supply chain have been successful. Based on our experiences this year with several vendors, we believe that MMSCAN's steps have been beneficial and impactful in this regard.
